NEW TYPE OF BATTLESHIP IS PLAN OF U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Naval experts speculated today on the development of a new type of "pocket battleship" as a possible result of the London conversations among representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France.

Bulking somewhere between 10,000 and 17,500 tons, the new craft would be a reply to Japan's secret warship building, particularly as it relates to Britain's defence of her Oriental and South Pacific possessions.

Japan is believed by some authorities to be constructing or contemplating super-cruisers, larger and more heavily-gunned than the 8,000-ton, six-inch gun ships which the signatories of the 1936 London treaty accepted as their six-year limit in this category.

Such oversize ships theoretically could upset the balance of naval power in the Pacific.

SEARCH PARTY FAILS TO FIND MISSING PLANE

Hunt Goes On For Big Skyliner and Passenger List of Nine

FRESNO, Calif., March 3.— Searching parties, blocked once by flood and darkness, renewed their efforts to reach a great mountainside scar 60 miles east of here today in hopes of locating an airliner which vanished with nine persons Tuesday night.

FRESNO, Cal., March 1—A rapidly growing rescue expedition, its leaders privately pessimistic, searched the snow-capped mountains east of here Wednesday for a big skyline, which became a jumpy, fierce storm and vanished during the night with nine persons aboard.

Despite storm conditions and soggy terrain, at least four planes and a small army of foot searchers spread over a wide area around Huntington and Shaver lakes, 35 miles northeast of here, where the liner was believed to have crashed.

MYSTERIOUS VOICES

Mysterious radio voices picked up in Oakland and a report that a plane had been sighted under conditions indicating little injury to

The big plane, a transcontinental and western air liner, left San Francisco Tuesday night for Albuquerque with six passengers and a crew of three.

Because a storm was coming in from the south, the plane headed toward Los Angeles instead of Las Vegas, Nev., on its regular course.

MEETS BIG STORM

It met the storm over the Tehachapi mountains, the natural dividing line between northern and southern California.

Pilot John D. Graves, receiving directions to hunt an emergency landing, turned back toward the north.

Apparently the plane hovered over the Fresno area an hour or more, then began making widening circles as the storm crowded it gradually eastward, into the craggy peaks of the Sierra Nevada mountains, only a few miles from the ordinarily safe and warm valley.

Aboard the luxurious $105,000 skyliner were passengers Tracy Diriam and Mary Lou Diriam, Stanford university students; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Walts of San Francisco; Victor Krause of Lincoln, Neb., and H. N. Salisbury, T.W.A. pilot on leave. The crew consisted of Graves, First Officer C. W. Wallace, Tucson, Ariz., and Stewardess Martha M. Wilson, Philadelphia.

Cavalry Force Is Steadily Yielding To Unroman- tic Tanks

LONDON, March 3.—The British army will cost £106,500,000 ($534,630,000) during the financial year 1938-39. This is £24,326,000 more than in 1937-38. The increased cost, says a war office memorandum, measures the progress made by bringing military preparations up to date. The army estimates for 1938-

The army estimates today followed yesterday's figure of £102,720,000 for the Royal Air Force. They brought the increase for the two services over last year to £44,546,000. The navy estimates will be issued later.

HOW TO GET THE MONEY

The telegraph correspondence between the provincial Minister of Agriculture and the federal Minister has been taken to the next level. It seems to show that the provincial Minister looked a few possible contingencies last September when he asked the federal Minister for money which the province asked to get federal help to meet relief costs in the dry belt. These unforeseen demands have arisen. The federal Minister has been particularly helpful in having savings go into the regulations and run the guarantee of criticism for doing more than I agreed to do.
The Attorney General has been asked to a brute who had "beaten his wife to a pulp."

Stripped of surplus language and details, that appears to be the situation of one deadlock. But if the province is seriously in need of the $125,000 loan asked for, the money may be made available by an understanding reached by Mr. Dunningham and Mr. Low. "While we do not lose sight of the fact that we could make loan for any other portion of your legitimate unemployment relief expenditures covered by terms of any agreement with the federal government."

Why not ask for the loan under some other agreement, and switch a corresponding amount of provincial money into the dry area relief fund?

JUST TO MAKE SURE

The city council is to employ a staff of Toronto engineers to make a study of the city's railway system, just as a check on the rehabilitation program proposed by the city's officials.
The city will not be large if it goes ahead to spend the money before embarking on an estimate to run to $700,000.

It is the intention of the city council to find the plans wrong and thereby save the city a heavy investment. On the contrary, it is fairly probable they will approve the program in its entirety. This may be inferred from the results on other occasions when outside experts have been brought in to look over proposals made by men in charge of the utilities. Ever the last thirty odd years the city has paid out a good deal of money to find that the men in charge of these enterprises gave sound advice to their extension. Obviously the result has been different, but only often enough to establish the rule.

The money that spent was not wasted, when qualified experts were employed. Their reports have built up confidence which might not otherwise have been in the case of the city officials. As city transportation systems are in a process of evolution at the present time, it is well to make certain as possible that the proposed rehabilitation of the street car will be made with conditions ten or twenty years hence.

SAFETY FIRST

Trans-Canada Airlines scheduled mail flights across western Canada got away to a discouraging start. Discouraging in the sense that the previously prepared plan to launch the service on Wednesday evening was abandoned. The plane was turned back by fog shortly after it left Vancouver. The west-bound plane, delayed by severe weather, got no farther.

Disappointing as this may be, it is no worse than disappointing. No person was killed and no one injured; that is the important point. Congratulations are due the pilots and ground crew for knowing when the safety line had been reached, and for having courage enough to abandon the endeavour when the weather conditions were encountered which made flying extremely hazardous.

It is to be hoped that in operating the new service safety will always be given precedence over schedules. Nobody's mail is so important that people's lives are at risk to arrive by train. Passengers and pilots are of more value than bags of letters. And in the long run a record of accidents will do more to ruin the reputation of airlines than a reputation for sacrificing everything to speed.

A good steamship company built a worldwide reputation, and a world-wide transportation business, because its standing order to every captain was "Never miss a scheduled departure when conditions are bad; bring your ship into port." The airlines will prosper and will deserve to prosper, if that is made its operating policy.

THOSE INDEMNITIES

The legislature finally decided to restore full annual indemnities to all the members of members of the cabinet. The somewhat curious fact is that the Ministers are to get less for a session, than they did for the last session, while carrying many times the responsibility and doing several times as much work. The discrimination may not be financially important to the Ministers, but it is not to be taken lightly to the same thing in terms of money saved, and removed the anomaly, to give them the full session indemnity and the same salaries by an amount equal to the increase.

Mr. O'Connor got little support for his proposal to increase money to spend more than for a long time, including a 20 per cent slash in indemnity.

ties and a 25 per cent cut in ministerial salaries.
In fact only eight members voted for the plan and 44 voted against it. A vote of the public it is to be suspected, would show something like the reverse ratio. Not that the public attach any superstitious value to the budget, but at times of distress, but because budgets have to be balanced sometime, and the present one is near enough balanced that a little pruning could make up the difference.

The overall deficit for the coming year is estimated at $1,867,731. From $700,000 is to be paid out to reduce savings. The deficit is the actual increase in the provincial debt, this calculated to be only $867,571. From a total spending program of twenty million dollars it should be possible to clip off items here and there to save this relatively small sum, without working hardship to any person or seriously hampering any public service.

If that were done, the financial result, the reaction upon the public, and the effect upon the rest of the province, would be far more important than anything to be gained by chiselling the annual indemnities of the Ministers while paying full indemnities to private members of the legislature.

THE FIRST RESULT OF AUSTRIA'S "APPEASEMENT" of Hitler looks like civil war.

Former Attorney General Hugh Gault says Social Credit is a "will of the wisp." Since he got elected by preaching the doctrine, he has held a place in the Social Credit Government until he was asked to resign, the question is whether the Social Credit Government will be a success or a condemnation of the doctrine of Mr. Gault.

Here and there are signs that a crime of violence was committed in 1938, and he is more madmanish when he is adequately stored for the perpetrator spends a few weeks in jail or pays a fine. As a prison in London a young man, particularly one having savings, is a jeweller whom he and his gang were in the act of robbing. The same day in Baltimore the catch of the Attorney General was taken to a brute who had "beaten his wife to a pulp."

Montreal women will be allowed to vote in civilian and military affairs. The province of Quebec is a "will of the wisp." Since he got
until he was asked to resign, the question
is whether the Social Credit Government will be a success or a condemnation of the doctrine
of Mr. Gault.

Current Comment

Mr. Jerry, Builder

In the King's Bench Division, Mr. Justice Goddard says there have been Jerry-builders ever since Tudor times. But nobody in court is able to say who Jerry was. All we know is that he left a big and prolific family to build shoddy houses, and his descendants are still busy, as you can see for yourself. The chief cause of the Jerry-builder is not that poor men lose money on shoddy houses, but that they and their wives and families pride on home. You cannot be very proud about the ancestral dwelling when the foundation sills, the walls crack, the woodwork warps, damp seeps through the wallpaper, and you can post a parcel under the door.—London Daily Express.

TIME TO RETIRE IT

The city solicitor is said to be preparing a by-law which will ban Jerry-builders from the use of motor vehicles which have achieved an age of dangerous antiquity.

How no one wants to deprive the low wage earner of his modicum of pleasure from a cheap and well-mannered car.

But when a vehicle gets to the point where it has no brakes, no bumpers and not enough machinery to guarantee adequate control, it should be kept out of public with the courageous denial that one would apply to the open possession of a loaded machine gun.—Vancouver Sun.

WHAT LIES AHEAD?

A new program lies ahead for Europe—perhaps for the world. Collective security on the basis of Nations principle is being put aside and British seeks alliance with Italy as the first step towards a four-power compromise between the victors and the vanquished.
The swift developments of the week-end find the world upset and disturbed. The future lies in the shadow of a question mark. The British government, the two votes of confidence passed by Conservatives in the upper and lower houses seem assured of weathering the storm.
There is little chance of a change of government. The motions proposed by the opposition benches have any effect.

What does the future hold? The British public will give, however, remains to be seen. Some observers believe that Mr. Eden will not permit his differences with the prime minister to result in a dangerous delay. That if they were would really be whether or not Britain was to be friendly to Germany and Italy.—Hull-Chronicle.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION—Thelma S. writes: "What do you think of the sea foods, especially lobster?" ANSWER—I have no objection to eating sea food. I eat fresh and fresh boiled, it is a healthful protein; however, I do not particularly recommend combining it with cheese. Lobster combined with cheese is not a good thing. I eat Canned lobster, crab and shrimp are also a valuable food. I eat them in moderation. I eat naturally a good source of food. I combine these foods with the non-starchy vegetables, or the other proteins.—Winipeg Free Press.

"TRUCKLING TO DICTATORS"

From the Montreal Witness Mr. Eden's resignation from the British Cabinet marks the capitulation of Premier Chamberlain and the Government to that small but extremely powerful section of opinion within the British Cabinet that looks for the restoration of the status quo ante bellum. The being at least—until the present British Government is elected from office—all the laborious work of the last four years is being undone.
The Chamberlain government has not half the strength that it has at the disposal of the democrats.
The policies of retreat before the mailed fist that admittedly have proved the grave by the Physical Research Society.

The decision to open negotiations at once with Italy was evidently taken in a hurry and in a panic. Chamberlain's government has not the place of the long view. Britain is now paying heavily, as Canada and the United States have already done for the privilege of having a businessman's government. Mr. Chamberlain has brought to his high post the spirit of the Birmingham politician, who has not half the age, rather than the vision of the statesman and the architect of a better world. It is ever good business to pay off blackmailers?

The Chamberlain government is powerfully entrenched. Its immediate fall is far from probable. Nevertheless the revelation of defections in foreign and domestic opinion is a serious blow to the Government. To the extent that the Government is working for peace, it will have the endorsement of the majority of the people. But the Chamberlain government is dictators, even after they have revealed the villains they are contemplating, will win little loyalty unless the British temper has changed greatly since an aroused nation forced the Houelle-Laval deal to sell out Ethiopia. Peace is to be kept by retreating in the face of the boots. There is good ground for believing that Mr. Eden's advance was determined upon in advance as a sop to the Italian dictator.
The Chamberlain government is already evident in the admission in the House of Commons that the condition imposed on Mr. Eden as a pre-condition to the restoration of Italy to Italy had been agreed to. This was a pledge of Italian withdrawal of soldiers from Spain. It was made to Mr. Chamberlain by the Italian Ambassador and most dishonorably not com-

Your Health

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

Much harm may be done by the practice of adding a rich dessert to a meal already adequate as this is productive of digestive difficulty.

Those who usually pay the most attention to the dessert portion of their meals, seeking to reduce and those patients often complain, but the cause they must omit the usual dessert after the dinner meal in the evening. However, I believe that even to omit a good dessert is a mistake.
The benefit from studying the dessert question.
There are several desserts which are both attractive and wholesome. In today's article I will therefore discuss some of the desserts which may be used with benefit by the average person in good health.

Ice cream is more of a favorite in the summer than in the winter, but dietetically speaking it provides an excellent winter dessert. Due to the butter fat contained in the cream, this desert is a good "fuel food" and is used in moderation during cold weather will help you to keep warm. The first reaction after taking it is one of comfort, but as the food substance which it provides are burned in the body, the final re-

The food value of ice cream is very high and it should be at all times be considered as a nature of a real food as a delicacy. Many of the refined foods are lacking in calcium, but ice cream provides a good source of this mineral, which is of value to the bones and teeth.

When using ice cream with the ordinary meal, it is wise to serve only small portions because of its high caloric value. In the strict diet the principal part of the meal, it is all right to use as much as half a pint at a time. You will find that it is a good dessert, and it is used in moderation during cold weather will help you to keep warm. The first reaction after taking it is one
of comfort, but as the food substance which it

Stewed fruits also make an excellent dessert. Applesauce, prunes, and other dried apricots or peaches will be welcomed by the family at the end of the meal. Canned fruits, if used in moderation, are a good dessert. They are a good "fuel food" and is used in moderation during cold weather will help you to keep warm. The first reaction after taking it is one
of comfort, but as the food substance which it

Gelatin desserts are among those which are pleasing and healthful. You may buy mixtures of gelatin and fruit, or you may prefer to use a larger serving and make it the protein part of the meal. Sherberts or ices may be taken occasionally and value added to the diet.

Use some of these simple desserts for your daily meals and save the richer ones which are more difficult to digest for the special treat.
You may be sure you have chosen the right dessert from the digestive standpoint when you find that it is a good dessert, and it is used in moderation during cold weather will help you to keep warm. The first reaction after taking it is one of comfort, but as the food substance which it provides are burned in the body, the final re-
